President's Ponderings

This month we will be celebrating an important American holiday, July 4th, Independence Day. It's a time to watch fireworks, have cook-outs and celebrate with our friends and family. It is also a time to honor all who have served our country in the military. Without them, our country would not be the same. Happy July 4th!

It's almost time for our July picnic. The picnic will be held on July 12th at Alto. Appetizers will start at noon, with the luncheon shortly after that. The club will provide sandwich fixings. If you have not signed up for the picnic yet, please email me asap so we can get an accurate head count. Setup for the picnic will start at 11:30 a.m. Volunteers are needed for both the setup and the take-down of the picnic.

In a future newsletter, there will be an article on early computer usage. If in your former life (pre-retirement), you have an interesting story of how you began using computers or what you did, please send me a paragraph or two about it. For example, I applied for a job as a librarian in Administration Services that led to a coding job.

The board is redesigning our logo. We have a few samples so far. We've had meetings on using AI. Why not test your skills using AI to design a logo. Maybe you know of someone (maybe a grandchild) who would like to come up with one. If you need more information on what should be a part of the design, contact me. Send your logos to me for consideration by the board.

The board is continuing to work on our new website. APCUG is giving us advice on what should be included in the website as well as providing resources to help create the new website. If you have suggestions, please attend the next core meeting or email your suggestions to me.

I have been sending out emails for people to join the new email group, LCACE-Members@groups.io. There are several members from the Google group email list who have not responded to my emails. I have resent the invitations to those individuals to join the Group.IO this past week. If you wish to continue receiving emails from LCACE, you must respond by hitting the reply and send buttons in the invitation so you are added to the group. If you do not respond to the email, you will not receive future emails from LCACE. If you have not received an invitation, please contact me. The planned date for converting to Groups.IO is August 1, 2025.

Discover a range of technology topics with APCUG's Wednesday Workshops and quarterly Saturday Safaris. You can conveniently search APCUG's YouTube channel by workshop or presenter name to find sessions that interest you. <https://www.youtube.com/user/APCUGVideos/videos>.

These online Zoom events feature presentations by enthusiasts and experts in different aspects of computing, such as the Windows, Linux, and Mac operating systems, backups, AI, home automation, and more.

You can engage with the presenters during the open mic Q&A sessions at the end of each presentation. These free workshops are available to members of any APCUG group. If you aren't a group member yet, search for one in your area by state and join in the fun. <https://apcug2.org/locate-a-user-group>

Register for the workshops by completing a Google form one of your group's officers forwards to you. After clicking Submit, you will receive an acknowledgment that you have been added to the registration spreadsheet. After the registration deadline, you will receive an email with the Zoom encrypted link.

The APCUG Wednesday Workshops and Saturday Safaris are great ways to explore technology in-depth and learn new skills. Don't miss this opportunity to expand your horizons and discover new possibilities with APCUG!

Wednesday Workshops began in May 2020 when members were sheltering in place and might need more to occupy their time. APCUG started having them once a month and now has three: 2nd, 3rd (Linux), and 4th Wednesdays. WWs have two one-hour presentations, each by a single presenter, a panel of presenters, or two-hour presentations with open mic Q&A after the presentations.
